NARBERTH, PENNSYLVANIA, SEPTEMBER 25, 1936

PRICE, FIVE CENTS

Political Pot

Three Roosevelts will figure in Montgomery County's campaign this fall.

First, of course, is the gentleman whose name will appear on the ballots as the Democratic candidate for re-election to the Presidency.

Second is Teddy Roosevelt, Jr., who will address a huge Republican mass meeting at Willow Grove Park, October 17.

The third is William Morrow Roosevelt, of Whitmarsh, who has been elected county campaign manager for the Democrats. He is the son of the late Henry Roosevelt, assistant secretary of the Navy, who was a first cousin to the President.

Nearly 1000 Republicans feasted on oratory and a platter lunch at the annual corn boil given by Township Treasurer Peter C. Hess Saturday at Gladwyne. G. O. P. leaders present included Hess, Congressman J. William Ditter, Ambler; County Recorder of Deeds William G. Hower, Bryn Mawr; Lambert Cadwalader, assemblyman candidate, Villanova; Borough Leader Charles V. Noel, Councilman Robert F. Wood and Frank A. Schrepfer, vice-chairman of the township-borough Republican Citizens' Committee, all of Narberth; Dr. Frank P. K. Barker, vice-president of the township commissioners, Gladwyne; Walter A. Wilson, treasurer of the Republican County Committee, Norristown. Rousing speeches against the New Deal were made by Mr. Schrepfer and Congressman Ditter. The affair was sponsored by the Lower Merion-Narberth Republican Association.

Governor Earle has appointed John T. Durbin, of Penn Wynne, a trustee of the Norristown State Hospital. He succeeds the late Leonard B. Botfield, of Merion. Durbin is chairman of the Lower Merion-Narberth Democratic Committee; member of the governor's Committee of Five to disperse State patronage in the county.

When Young Republicans of Pennsylvania met in Harrisburg this week, they elected John A. McGarvey, Bryn Mawr, one of eight vice-chairmen, and heard an address by Mrs. H. Tatnall Brown, Haverford. Monica Bachelor, Narberth, was a delegate.

Lower Merion-Narberth Republican headquarters at Church road and Lancaster avenue, Ardmore, will be formally opened Saturday, October 3, at 8 P. M.

Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg will speak next Thursday evening at eight o'clock in the Academy of Music, Philadelphia, under the auspices of The Republican Women of Pennsylvania.

Narberth Young Republicans Start Election Campaign

The Narberth Young Republicans last Thursday held its fall meeting at the home of Guy Mosteller, on Haverford avenue.

Plans for launching an energetic campaign to aid the Republican party in the fall election were discussed and enthusiastically received. Out of the discussion, a definite plan was formulated, with the hope that the club's members will be an ever increasing help to the Grand Old Party.

Miss Muriel White entertained the Young Republicans at a tea given at her home, 113 Essex avenue, Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. J. P. White, Mrs. C. V. Noel, Mrs. C. J. Cook, and Miss M. White acted as hostesses.

All Aboard for Elm and Athensville, Morgan's Corner and Eagle in 1873

The publication of a new timetable to compensate for the death of Daylight Saving* on Sunday makes a comparison with the old days on the Main Line interesting. A Pennsylvania Railroad timetable card of 1873, in the possession of Albert E. Burgstesser, new agent at the Narberth station, shows some radical changes in local rail traffic.

If you want to go from Narberth to town next week you can choose from thirty-seven trains. In 1873 there were eleven, and you didn't go from Narberth, but Elm Station. There were Paoli locals in those days, but you also could hop on the Parkesburg, Lancaster or Harrisburg Assommodation.

More people came home than went to town, for there were twelve trains westbound, including the Lancaster Mail. Now, except for Saturday, they are all even.

So, if you are historically minded, let us get on the Lancaster Mail at West Philadelphia and go far enough to make stops at Mantua, Hestonville, Overbrook, Merion, Elm, Wynnewood, Athensville, Haverford College, Bryn Mawr, Rosemont, Villa Nova, Radnor, Morgan's Corner, Wayne, Eagle, Reeseville and Paoli.

*Set your clocks back an hour Saturday night.

Penn Valley Seeks Road Name Change

Bryn Mawr Avenues Confusing; Penn Valley Road Suggested

MAIL CARRIERS URGED

Penn Valley road was suggested as a new name for the Bryn Mawr avenue, which runs between Montgomery avenue and Manayunk road, at a session of Penn Valley Association's Executive Committee this week. The change is held advisable because of confusion arising from deliveries on this avenue and other Bryn Mawr avenues, notably those in Bryn Mawr and Bala-Cynwyd.

Probable extension of mail delivery service in Penn Valley would tend to further complicate matters, it was held by the committee presided over by Walter D. Fuller, association president. This service is recommended by Narberth's postmaster, Joseph L. Kelley.

A campaign to prevent illegal hunting in the Penn Valley District during the hunting season in November was also authorized.

The committee in charge of this work consists of Guy Croyle, chairman; Henry Pfeiffer and J. G. Allen. The area for which delivery service is sought includes a half dozen streets in the district bounded by Montgomery avenue, Bryn Mawr avenue and Woodbine avenue.

A petition bearing the signature of about 50 residents of the section, requesting city mail delivery was circulated and sent to Washington as a project of the Penn Valley Association.

In response to this request, the postoffice department at Washington directed the Narberth Postoffice to make a survey.

This was done with the recommendation that two deliveries per day be provided for the following streets:

Moreno road; Old Gulph road from Moreno road to Bryn Mawr avenue; Bryn Mawr avenue from Broadacres road to Woodbine avenue; Woodbine avenue from Bryn Mawr avenue to Brookhurst avenue; Arlington road and Braeburn lane.

H. O. West, of Bryn Mawr avenue, is chairman of the committee on postal service, while J. G. Allen, of 427 Gilpin road, secretary of the association, is the other member of the committee.

The following streets in Penn Valley already receive postal delivery from the Narberth postoffice:

May Eliminate Hairpin Curve

Lower Merion Commissioners have been asked to eliminate the hairpin turn at the intersection of Mary Waters Ford and Conshohocken State roads in Penn Valley.

The intersection has been the scene of several automobile collisions, one of which was fatal.

Plans for removing the hairpin turn to intersect Mary Waters Ford road on a straight line with Conshohocken State road have been prepared in the office of Walter E. Rosengarten, engineer of the township.

Residence and 3-Car Garage to be Built

New Building at Sabine and Conway Aves. Will Cost About $10,000

TWO PURCHASE HOMES

A residence with a three-car garage beneath it will be built on Sabine avenue at the Conway avenue extension, Narberth, by Miss Mary G. Sharp, of Narbrook Park. The total cost will be about $10,000.

This building permit has been issued by borough Building Inspector George B. Supple, and will be the second new residence to be built in Narberth in the last few months. Previously no new home had been built in the borough since 1931.

The lot, 103x160, was sold to Miss Sharp by Durbin & Howard for the MonDela Corporation.

Durbin & Howard also report that Dr. Joseph C. Snyder has purchased the residence at 10 Hampden avenue, where he has opened an office for the practice of osteopathy after an eminent naval, engineering and scholastic career.

The real estate firm also reports that James W. Ervine, musical director of All Saints' Church, Wynnewood, has bought from Mr. and Mrs. Edgar G. Hermann, the property at 12 Narbrook Park, which was held for sale at $10,000. Mr. and Mrs. Ervine will occupy the residence as their home.

Letter From Spain, Delivered in 19 Days, Bearing Rebel Stamps, Tells of Barricades

Mailing time from Granada, Spain, to Narberth, Pennsylvania, is now 19 days.

A letter to Senor Francisco Seco de Lucena, of Chestnut avenue, mailed by his father, Senor Luis Seco de Lucena, Granada editor, September 2, was delivered in Narberth last Saturday, September 19.

The letter bears postage stamps issued by the Rebel government. It was flown over Loyalist lines to Seville, then taken by plane to the Portugal boundary, and then carried by the usual mail channels.

Granada, in the hands of Rebels, is surrounded by Loyalist forces. Senor Seco de Lucena writes that the family (father, mother, brother and sister) have moved all their belongings to the first floor, with the second and third floors vacant because of bombing dangers. They also have barricaded all windows as a prevention against sniping.

Senor Francisco Seco de Lucena, who is the son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Burgstesser, of Narberth, is American correspondent for several Spanish and South American publications.

Previously he received a letter from home, mailed August 5, delivered September 5.

Borough Ball Team Ousts Coatesville From Second Half Picture, 7-6

WINS SERIES STARTER

By JOHN MULLIGAN

Holding the whip hand after coming through in great style to grab two important victories last weekend, Narberth will attempt to make it two straight in Main Line League "Little World Series" play when the locals meet Brookline here tomorrow. The game is scheduled to begin promptly at 3 o'clock and they will clash in the third battle on the same field Sunday.

Gene Davis' defending champions sewed up the second-half laurels on Saturday by nosing out a stubborn Coatesville aggregation again by 7-6 figures on the borough grounds. A day later the boroughites met Brookline in the first game of their five-game playoff series for season's honors and won with ease, 5-0.

Many close followers of the league have voiced an impression that the annual series will have to step some to hold a place even equal to the one just closed with the Coates. They feel that so many thrills were enjoyed in the initial playoff that the current battles will serve merely as an anticlimax. Last Sunday's one-sided victory seemed to bear out their sentiments, but Brookline is known for the many thrills it has had with the Davismen. Eddie Hare's gang is determined to come back strong tomorrow.

Narberth could duplicate its feat of last year by winning both games this week-end, thus ending the series in three games. Brookline was the victim in such a feature last season.

Reynolds Whiffs Eight

The townsmen for the third straight time were given plenty of trouble by the fighting Coates before finally winning out to earn the right to meet Brookline. Sunday's game was made easy because Bill Reynolds turned in his best pitching performance in several years. The former West Catholic High and Dayton University righthander baffled the opposition with a fine change of pace and wonderful control. He had them whiffing, flying out, or rolling harmlessly to the infielders with monotonous regularity.

Reynolds gave up only five hits, and set down eight on strikes. He issued just one pass, in the seventh inning. One man got as far as third, that being Sammy Schaeffer, Brookline rightfielder, who blasted a long triple after two were away in the ninth frame. Fast fielding by Harry Fox saved the shutout win for "Fidgety Bill."

Georgie Severn opposed him on the mound and hurled a fair game. He was nicked for 12 hits and failed to earn one strikeout. He walked one batter.

Herrmann Beats Coatesville

Al Herrmann, big righthander, gets credit for pitching Narberth into the series with the first-half champs. While a bit erratic in spots, Herrmann bore down when it was necessary. He gave up eight safeties, struck out five and walked six. "Perk" Smith, Coatesville ace, was the victim.

Narberth's first run scored in the initial frame against Brookline was enough to win since Reynolds was serving up a fine brand of poison to the Haremen. After two were out Joey Burns, who led the winners with three bingles, broke off a single to right. Buddy Walker lifted another single to left and a double to the road in left off Harry Fox's bludgeon enabled Burns to score.

Walker crashed a homer with the bases bare in the fourth to further the edge and then Narberth added

Pride in Their Own

The election of two Norristown athletes, Paul M. Shellenberger and Lawson Earl, as members of the Rittenhouse Junior High School faculty by that borough's School Board is pleasing to a community which takes pride in its own and reflects credit on the school directors. The men chosen, of course, have proven scholastic as well as athletic abilities.

It is unfortunate that the directorates of both Lower Merion's and Narberth's school districts do not seem to have this same local spirit. Not that these authorities are remiss in their selection of instructors of experience and educational attainments. Quite the contrary. But it does appear, from scanning the lists of faculty members, that it is a handicap to receive early training in these schools if one expects later to apply for a teaching position on the Eastern Main Line.

Proposed Road Changes

Levering Mill road, Cynwyd, where new homes are springing up and DeForest Ballou's old home and barn are nothing but memories, is now facing many changes. Soon there may be a bus line over an improved and widened road, with a new name for the road.

Years ago the distinguished looking old gentleman lived proudly alone in his tumble-down house on a huge lot where J. Howard Mecke, Jr., is now building American Homes apace. Aside from attending the Egyptian Theatre, neatly garbed in evening dress as for a southern ball, his sole public appearance in years was at a township commission meeting in Ardmore, to protest, successfully, a proposed change in the name of his Levering Mill road.

He would have turned over in his grave Tuesday night, when the Rev. Frank Duncombe, at a Bala-Cynwyd Neighborhood Club meeting, advocated the self-same change: making Meeting House lane—which originates at Iona avenue, Narberth, and sweeps through swank Merion Park to Levering Mill road—continue past the Cynwyd School and appropriate Levering Mill road's name down the hill to State road and on clear to Belmont avenue.

Another name change suggested by the Methodist minister is for the Levering Mill road that runs from Montgomery pike, Cynwyd, to Meeting House lane at the Cynwyd School, to be extended on downhill what is now called Manayunk road and so straight northwest to State road at the pumping station.

Name changes are now being advocated by the real estate people who are developing the upper Cynwyd and Penn Valley section; and it is said they are also trying to persuade a bus company to run a line along Levering Mill road from Montgomery pike to the school and then on what may become Meeting House lane to State road and then back to Cynwyd proper.

In the meantime, township authorities have promised to widen and pave the steep road past where the Colonel lived, from Bryn Mawr avenue to State road. Which will make many Main Line motorists happy.

That's My Story

On Friendship

We seldom shed that Anglo-Saxon crust and show our friendship. Oh, party-going and bridge playing show off our manners and our sportsmanship, and occasionally enable us to manifest friendship to a man or wife by using tact when there's a battle to be averted. We do favors for people, and they for us, and sometimes it's a manifestation of warm-hearted true friendship, sure enough. But it's when extremes of adversity and good fortune come one's way, that one really learns the true worth of friends.

Many of you who bother reading this, will understand what I mean. You know what I went through, and you showed true friendship, in many ways. Two friends rallied around with substantial loans. Two gave me money. Another gave of her time. My choir, in addition to sending flowers, endeared itself to me by its tact. Rather than inquire about my wife's health every rehearsal night and Sunday morning, individually, the members, all those heartick months, talked to me of other matters, and kept posted without bothering me. A trifle, perhaps, but a mark of real consideration. And on the worst night and morning of winter, when these Main Line roads and walks were dangerously slippery with still-falling sleet, friends came by the scores, to home and church, to pay their respects to one they loved, and her husband. One girl walked four miles in that icy mess. Others drove from out country. Their actions were to me even more beautiful than the flowers sent by so many of the organizations of this section, as well as individuals. I still cannot trust myself to talk, and just barely to write, about the subject, for the emotion that comes welling up in me.

And what a happy occasion, even though marred unspeakably by the absence of the one who would best have enjoyed sharing it with me, was the receipt of that prize check recently. The heart-felt expressions of personal joy from so many made me realize as I never had before, what beauty lies dormant in human nature. Some wrote letters that I prize. Some went out of their way to phone me or express face to face their congratulations. The most touching of all: one who had little and struggles with difficulty for her living, showed that she was every bit as happy that I had won, as if she had. Another, a librarian who had entered an essay in the same contest, was honestly as glad that I had won as if she had. This probably makes cold reading. Well, it's for the record; and anyone who has experienced profound sorrow and joy will understand the brimming measure of my appreciation for good friends.

What Is Housecleaning?

It must be very progressive because it doesn't take long to get to the top. As you come down you will find, here and there, you need some painting done or possibly floors re-finished.

Have you enough shelf or closet space? Rods in your closets for coats?

Does your bath room need re-decorating?

Do you have an attractive stairway?

Does your front door represent your home?

Your books will want to be shelved for the Winter.

Your china is waiting to crawl into a Corner Cupboard.

WATER POWER

For many years picturesque mills were a familiar sight about Suburban Philadelphia. Abundant power for industries of this sort was furnished by the creeks and streams of our area. Almost from the start of the first permanent settlement mills began to turn out such commodities as wool, and cotton, lamp wicks, arms, and carpet yarns.

The first grist mill was built in 1643 on Cobbs Creek. Busy early and late, it ground both coarse and fine flour. Settlers often travelled from great distances to have their grain ground here.

On Mill Creek in Lower Merion there were 7 or 8 mills engaged in making paper alone. Some of this paper was used for the money issued by the Continental Congress. The expression "not worth a continental" shows its rapid depreciation.

Righter's Mill was built in Revolutionary times. Tradition tells us that here a Tory mixed ground glass in the flour to injure the Revolutionary soldiers.

The water of our creeks was essential to supply the power for these first industries—the mills. Today many of the same watercourses are again essential to our welfare... they make possible our abundant water supply.

New Zone Division Created in Township

B-1 Restricts Houses to Single-Family But Permits Smaller Lots

POLICE EXAMS ARE SOON

A new residence zoning division was created by the township commissioners Wednesday night to be known as B-1, an intermediate district between zones "B" and "D" and which restricts residences to single family houses, but permits their erection on lots smaller than those provided for in "B" zones.

The new division is the outcome of a compromise found necessary in Overbrook Hills, where residents wanted single family residence restrictions while property owners declared that many of their lots were too small to meet the "B" zone requirements. The 1927 zoning ordinance was therefore amended.

Police Exams Soon

Colonel Erskine Bains, police and fire chairman, announced that examinations for police force applicants will be held in October. Applicants should get in touch with the department for information before the middle of next month. From nine to fifteen patrolmen will be selected, according to Superintendent of Police Charles P. Smith.

Twenty-mile speed limit signs are requested of the State for placing on Conshohocken State road between Levering Mill road and Montgomery avenue, Bala-Cynwyd.

Through stop signs are to be placed on Penarth road, Cynwyd, at the Conshohocken State road intersection.

One-hour parking is established on the south side of Avon road to 500 feet east of Haverford avenue, borough-township dividing line.

Proposed vacation and abandonment of a part of Jones street in West Manayunk was deferred when a delegation of twenty residents who use the street and three property owners, headed by Joseph Gallion, protested the contemplated action.

Approval was given for changing the name of Olinda road in the General Wayne district to Moreno road.

A wading pool is being planned for next year in Gulley Run Park at Bryn Mawr avenue and Manayunk road.

In his report John H. Jefferies, Jr., dog quarantine chairman, said his committee did not recommend an appropriation of $100 and use of the dog pound as a clinic, both requested by Peter C. Barr, Cynwyd, operating manager of the Animal Owners' Protective Association. A letter from Walter R. Faries, Cynwyd, association counsel, concerning the establishment of a township dog clinic was referred to the Board of Health.

World Premiere at Hedgerow

On Monday, Hedgerow Theatre will launch another world premiere, its 120th production, and incidentally its second play with a large negro cast—"One Way to Heaven" by the negro journalist, poet, novelist, Countee Cullen. The first Hedgerow play with a cast of negroes was "In Abraham's Bosom."

"One Way to Heaven" will be repeated Tuesday; while this Saturday is offered Shaw's "Candida" with Miriam Phillips in the title role.

"The Anchor's Weighed" from the French of Gantillon will be given this Friday and "An American Tragedy" (Dreiser-Piscator), Wednesday.

Rehearsals for Main Line Orchestra Start Sept. 29

Musicians who wish to join the Main Line Orchestra should get in touch with Adolph Vogel, Narberth, its conductor, at 1716 Sansom street, Philadelphia.

Rehearsals for the orchestra's fifteenth season will start Tuesday at 8 P. M. in St. Mary's Church Hall, Ardmore, according to Joseph R. Mickle, vice-president of the Orchestra Association.

Book Club Starts

The Book Club of the junior section of the Woman's Community Club of Narberth will hold its first fall meeting this Monday at the home of Mrs. J. H. Jefferies, Jr., Arlington road, Penn Valley.

Mrs. Lucille Clark, president, will preside. Lists of new books will be discussed. All books in circulation among the members should be brought and returned to their respective owners.

A welcome is extended to those interested in current literature. If you would like to join—come with a member—or call Mrs. Jefferies, Narberth 2432, for information.

Neighborhood Club Discusses Place for Parking, Library Purposes

"What to do with the Bala-Cynwyd Postoffice?" may become the burning question on the lips of men, women and children of the community, if a discussion started at the Neighborhood Club's meeting Tuesday night gets anywhere. The meeting, at Cynwyd Fire Hall, made up in constructive interest what it lacked in numbers.

There was barely a quorum present, despite a letter sent all members, urging them to give their views on lessening the number of meetings, strengthening the Executive Board, and improving the entertainment value of a reduced number of sessions. Consequently, after discussion pro and con, the issue was postponed.

REV. FRANK DUNCOMBE
"Turning down ASCO road neighbors with fire..."

Several Llandrillo road neighbors of the Cynwyd Postoffice attended, on invitation of President H. G. Mattoon. Attorney Frederic C. Newbourg, Jr., and Banker W. G. Littleton advanced, as they had done at a Lower Merion Zoning Adjustment Board hearing, objections to the proposed lease for an American Store by the State Banking Department, acting for the closed Merion Title and Trust Company, which once occupied half the building. From the other half the postoffice will be moved, October 15, across the street to a building now being completed.

Mr. Newbourg declared the State Banking Department has until September 27—this Sunday—to file its brief asking for township approval of a minor exception in the zoning ordinance that blocks the lease at present; and that thereafter there will be ten days' grace to file a reply, giving reasons why the exception should not be made in favor of the chain grocery store company.

Ex-Club President Charles S. Shinn, who heads Bala-Cynwyd's library and choral associations, declared Cynwyd (and police) Commissioner Erskine Bains said he had been told by an ASCO representative that the company will locate no new store in a neighborhood where sentiment is adverse. To this Attorney Walter R. Faries said the chain however, will force one of its grocery stores on a site where there is a probability any other store will be permitted to locate.

Mr. Littleton said he objected to a grocery store largely because its fresh food is bound to attract to the neighborhood rats, mice and bugs. He professed himself, however, "scared stiff," as a prohibitionist, at a scare raised by the Rev. Frank Duncombe.

Mr. Duncombe said, "We are playing with fire if we try to keep an American Store out." He believed it would be far nicer for the neighborhood than a tap room, to which the State Banking Department would—so he and another speaker declared—give a lease if offered enough. He said such a tap room offer has already been made, and may be considered if the store application is turned down. He spoke strongly against tap rooms, referring to disorders near his Methodist Church at the Cynwyd Grill, Levering Mill road (granting of whose State license he and others had opposed unsuccessfully).

It was then that suggestions were made for the community to do something about the bank property:

Howard Cross: Why not a professional building?

Walter Faries and President Mattoon: Raze the building by township condemnation (before it becomes dilapidated, as mentioned in The News last week), and turn the site into parking space for patrons of the new postoffice and Cynwyd Station parkers.

Vice-President Percy S. Harkins,

Community Center for Bala-Cynwyd Urged by Curate and Scout Leader

The Rev. J. Samuel Stephenson, Jr., assistant to Dr. A. E. Clattenburg at St. John's Church, started the ball rolling Tuesday at Bala-Cynwyd's Neighborhood Club, for "doing something for the kids of the community."

As scoutmaster of Troop 3, Cynwyd, he reported the town's three Boy Scout troops, in getting 1800 Bala-Cynwyd motorists' careful-driving pledges last year, had enjoyed their project despite ill-natured reception at a few homes.

And he went on to declare that here, as elsewhere, boys and girls aged 16 to 20 are finding little to keep themselves occupied, partly because they belong to an unfortunate age. "Many of them are getting drunk; and you'll find plenty hanging around gas stations, looking for trouble to get into. . . . Some of them can play basketball at the Cynwyd School, but few teams can afford to pay the necessary $3.50 plus extras, and basketball isn't everything, anyway. . . . What we need is a community center. . . ."

"Let's take care of the kids with a community center."

As a separate issue, but bound closely with it, Risdon K. Wenrich, scout field executive of the Main Line and Upper Darby, made a plea for parents' responsibility to youngsters. He declared half America's crimes are committed by minors. We can help children by our own example, he said, and by giving them the proper encouragement. "The man is not worth much who lacks social responsibility. . . . Civilization, 'the reclaiming from a savage state; refining.' . . . That's just what we need for our youths, so that as adults they will make our world a better place to live in." He urged support of two phases of Scoutdom's Ten-Year Plan: (1) Cubbing—for boys 9, 10 and 11 years old—aiding these Scout Cubs by co-operation of school, church and home—tying mother and father closer to their own boy. (2) Scouting for boys 12 to 15—making one out of every four new male citizens a four-year scout-trained man—leading them, through observance of the scout oath and law, to become participating citizens.

Boys' and girls' welfare in mind, the club moved the appointment of a committee to study the possibility of a community center, possibly on the lines of the two alternative plans proposed by President Julius Zieget of the Lower Merion Township Commission at the April meeting of the club. Such a plan, perhaps necessitating the donation of a 15-acre tract by some public-spirited neighbor, would call for a community building, gymnasium and sports fields.

A library association director, and Charles Shinn, library's president, and others: The library, owned by its incorporated association and debt-free and self-supporting, thanks to members and largely to township funds, is greatly in need of increased space. It is contemplating building a wing. The Woman's Club might find good use for the adjacent library building and might co-operate in a community drive for funds for larger quarters—the bank-postoffice building. Messrs. Littleton and Newbourg expressed themselves and neighbors as likely to give financial aid toward buying the building and locating so desirable a community institution as the library at the geographical center of the community.

Accordingly a resolution was passed, authorizing Chairman Colwell and his Public Improvement Committee—which will probably be enlarged by President Mattoon for the occasion—to ask that nothing be done with the property for the moment, and to formulate plans and enlist the co-operation of other organizations in securing the building for public use, preferably for the library.

Tax Penalty Date Extended in Township, Also County

The date after which penalties will be added for non-payment of occupational taxes has been extended in Lower Merion from September 15 to October 15, Township Finance Chairman Thomas E. Andrews told fellow commissioners Wednesday night.

It was also learned from the township solicitor, James M. Brittain, that delinquent county personal taxes may be paid without penalty additions at Norristown. The delinquent must have a receipt showing payment of this year's tax. Back taxes of this nature may also be paid in installments.

UPPER DARBY'S FETE Will be Feature of Township's 150th Anniversary Observance

The famed Mardi Gras of New Orleans, America's bid against European domination of pageants and fun, will be introduced to the North October 29 in Upper Darby. It will feature the closing day of the "Miracle of Progress."

Beginning October 25, Upper Darby will observe its one hundred fiftieth anniversary. All the features of a State exposition will be crowded into five days. The observance has been christened the "Miracle of Progress," significant of the township's phenomenal development. A replica of the South's night of hilarious fun and mockery will be shown to the North for the first time in this Mardi Gras. For several decades it has been a feature of the South's festival season. Upper Darby will establish another precedent in bringing this colorful pageant to the North.

5593 Pupils Enroll in Township Schools

Board Recommends Heater for Academy Building in Cynwyd

SHRUBBERY BIDS SOUGHT

Lower Merion's school enrollment on September 18 was 5593, Superintendent of Schools S. E. Downs reported to the township School Board at its September meeting. Increases were noted in the two high schools and Cynwyd, Penn Wynne and Wynnewood Road schools.

The cost per pupil last year was $154.90 in the high schools and $140.20 in the elementary schools. This represents the tuition charges for individual pupils outside the township.

Installation of a hot air heater to replace two old heaters to be discarded in the Academy School building on Bryn Mawr avenue, Cynwyd, was recommended by the board. The cost will be less than $300.

Board members authorized the superintendent to ask for bids for the replacement of shrubbery and, separately, for the maple and oak trees on school grounds.

The board authorized Superintendent Downs and F. A. Dubois, assistant superintendent, to attend a meeting of superintendents and public officials in Harrisburg on October 7 and 8.

Coughlin will make his weekly broadcast this Saturday evening from the Municipal Stadium, Philadelphia, quotation is made of the last paragraph: "While Father Coughlin will be the principal speaker, it has been arranged that William Lemke, candidate for President, and Thomas O'Brien, candidate for vice-president, also will address the gathering."

two in the seventh and another in the eighth to clinch it.

Bud was the hero of Saturday's triumph. Working the batting part of a "squeeze play" the veteran first-sacker bunted in Tanny Ralston, with what proved the winning run in a big seventh-inning surge.

Bad Sixth Inning
Narberth had scored single runs in the second, third and fourth, only to see the Coates come to life with a vengeance in their sixth when they scored six times. Some timely hitting plus Herrmann's weakening and some weird Narberth fielding put the visitors ahead at 6-3.

In Narberth's stretch-inning Jack Eachus walked and Herrmann was safe when his fly to right was dropped. Mickey Gavin, who collected three doubles and a single besides playing a stellar game at short-stop, then poled a double to right, scoring Eachus. Ralston poked a one-bagger to center, sending home Herrmann and Gavin. Ralston went to third on Joey Burns' fly to center and crossed on Walker's perfect bunt.

CYNWYD 2004

Al Adam has his hands full this Friday afternoon when a big team of veterans invade the Main Line from Queen's Lane, Germantown way. Johnny Powell, starting his second year as coach of Penn Charter's football squad, will bring his charges to Pennypacker Field for the opening game of the 1936 season.

Lower Merion has won every time the two teams have met in the past. Back in 1926 and '27 the Maroon was victor by one or two touchdowns scores, and when the series was resumed in 1933 the local boys continued on their winning ways. If they win today it will make four in a row since relations were resumed.

Last year's victory was one-sided in score—18 to 0—but actually the Penn Charter team looked to be the stronger eleven of the two. Lower Merion was able to score only two first downs during the contest and it was only fine defensive play that kept the home team from doing quite a bit of scoring themselves.

A very interesting play occurred during the game played on Penn Charter's field which resulted in Lower Merion's first touchdown. A short-pass play was started intended for right end Sam Miller. The ball went over his head and two Penn Charter men got their hands on the spheroid at exactly the same moment. Miller was standing in front of them and as they batted it he grabbed the ball cleanly and headed for the end zone. Four yards from the goal line he was moving fast just inside the field of play. He was hit from the side as he took a long leap for the end zone. His body was completely out of the field of play as he flew through the air, but as he landed he stuck out his left foot so that it touched ground first in the end zone, just one foot over the goal line and exactly one inch from the side line. It was a play in a million.

Lower Merion has a big squad again this year—so far as numbers go. There are thirty linemen still listed on the first team and twelve backfield men. The line will be good again, as usual. It will not carry the heft that has been present in the past, but it is well schooled in fundamentals and Coach Adam has replacements for every position. The team may go places if the backfield develops. The backs are decidedly green. There is enough speed present to make a first-class track squad, but there is not enough football experience there as yet to give the coaches much room for encouragement.

Joe Stinger, Howard Witte and Ted Jefferson are the only backs with varsity experience. Cliff Roberts, Nick Jones, Hart, Seaver, Martindale, Toti, McIntyre and Miller complete the ensemble. Jones, Miller and McIntyre came over from the Junior High team this year. Either McIntyre or Miller will start in the game this afternoon.

with Stinger, Witte and Jefferson.

Coach Adam will probably have in his starting line-up Hammond at center, Ensinger and Captain Powell at guards, Burrows and Whitfield at tackles and Ramsey and Morris at the wings. This line is capable, though weighing fifteen to twenty pounds less than the Penn Charter outfit.

The visitors are slight favorites to win the opener, but Lower Merion has a way of pulling the unexpected when necessary. It should be a good game and close.

Girl Scout News

Leaders:

The first meeting of the Main Line Girl Scout Leaders, held at the site of the Pioneer Unit of the Day Camp on Mrs. Howard Longstreth's estate at Haverford, was a very enjoyable "Southern Party." The leaders wore bandanas, cooked a one-pot meal over an open fire and sang around the camp fire, in southern style, songs from the new scout song book, "Sing Together." Mrs. Longstreth, the hostess, congratulated the Day Camp director on the splendid condition of the camp site and she in turn wishes to thank the scouts for their co-operation.

District Committee:

At the first meeting of the District Committee, Mrs. Henry Booth, the chairman, was presented with a Thanks Badge for her untiring efforts on behalf of the Girl Scouts of our district. The presentation was made by Miss Helen Melvin, District 8 Field Captain. Mrs. Booth well deserves the vacation she will get when she leaves on October 20 for California, for even during the summer she does not forget her Main Line Girl Scouts.

Plans are well under way for the cookie sale which begins the latter part of October. The girls who have had a vacation at Indian Run can appreciate the benefits of this sale to all who take part in it. Those who sell cookies help their troop, district and camp. A large part of the proceeds are devoted to improvements to the permanent camp.

The girls from Narberth and Bala-Cynwyd who enjoyed a part of the summer at Indian Run are:
